

Garver confident of women cager abilities

By Julie Miller

The sport of basketball is one that takes much physical coordination and endurance. This year's women's basketball team has that.

Phil Garver, originally from Indianapolis, Ind., is head coach of the women's basketball team for his third consecutive year. He has been coaching for five years. Before he came here in 1980, Garver spent four years at Warner Pacific, where he played on the basketball team.

Since he has been head coach of women's basketball here he has had a 37 win and 19 loss record. Garver said he has earned it with hard work and plenty of sweat.

Garver's assistant coach for this year is Dan Slick. Slick came here from Warner Pacific also and still holds the career high scoring record at the College.

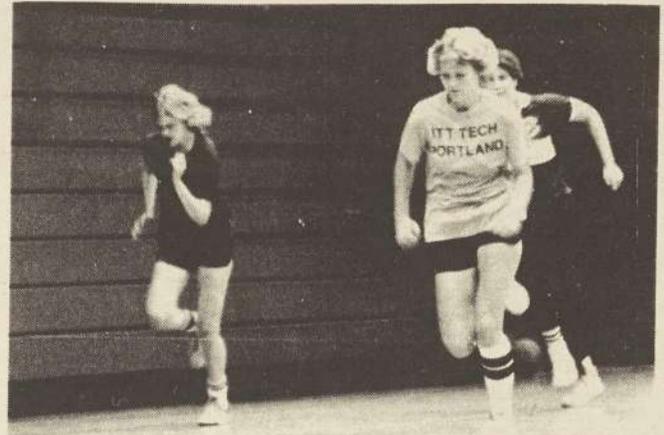

Garver is greatly looking forward to this year and feels positive about his team. He said a good basketball team needs teamwork, good attitudes and much physical talent.

Recruiting for this year's team resulted in acquiring what Garver called "outstanding players." Some of the freshmen include JoAnne Ineman, a transfer from Arizona State; Sue Canoy, a triple A-all state player from Oregon

City; Jean Dourghty, a single A-all state from Pilot Rock; Bev Loverin, a B-all state from Hereford; and Patty Mattis, a double A-all state from Gladstone.

Some of the returning sophomores include Dawn Bonvinco from Molalla, Carol Hashberger from Oregon City, Diane Rich from Estacada, Les Kingsbury from Aloha and Teri Fox from Hereford.

Soccer game ends in tie

By Christine Warner

Clackamas' soccer team got a pep talk from coach Janos

Szanto before their game against Shoreline last Saturday.

Third year player Steve Enos said Szanto made them realize what they had to do, relaxed them and took some of the pressure off by setting some priorities for the game.

As a result of that talk Enos said, "We played almost a perfect game for the whole 90 minutes. We were ahead 2 to 0 before the other team scored two goals late in the second half."

The score ended in a tie, 2 to 2. Clackamas' Rick Townsend scored one goal to make it 1-0 at the half. Half way through the second half, player Tim Choquette scored on a header from a free kick.

Teamwork is improving game by game. "Although we have five league losses, we still have a very good chance to make the playoffs because we have a weak division," Enos said.

The next home game is today against rival Lane Community College at 3 p.m. Saturday the team has a road game against Edmonds Community College at 1 p.m.
